FOREWORD

In every sphere of the life lots of information is being generated which needs to be shared and sharing of information is very important task. It needs some sort of specialized activities. The National Documentation Centre on Literacy and Population Education, was established in IAEA with the financial assistance from UNFPA through Directorate of Adult Education, Govt. of India in 1995. Since its inception the Documentation centre has engaged itself in reaching to its clients with right information at right time, and has tried to become a gateway of information on various aspects of literacy and population education issues.

It is a matter of great satisfaction that over the years Documentation centre has been regularly collecting resource materials, generating bibliographies, publishing journal and newsletter on population education which are highly appreciated. Through information repackaging service it has kept its programme partners abreast of the developments on various issues concerning population education.

I am happy to learn that the Documentation centre has prepared A Resource Directory of Information, Education and Communication (IEC) Material developed by SRCs, PERCs, SCERTs and some other Organizations. Abstracts and keywords of more than 200 IEC Material enumerated in the directory have been drawn out.

I congratulate Shri SC Dua and his team for bringing out this timely Document which would be of immense use to research scholars and practitioners in the field.

I wish the Documentation Centre to truly become a gateway of information and clearing house on Literacy. Population and Development Education issues as envisaged in its programme objectives.

PREFACE

Adolescence is a distinct and dynamic phase of development in the life of an individual. It is a period of transition from childhood to adulthood and is characterized by spurts of physical, mental, emotional and social development.

According to recent statistics, more than 50 per cent of the world's population is below the age of 25 and about, one - fifth of the world population is of adolescents. As this is a large percentage of the population, any change in the pattern of education, behaviour, age at marriage and life style of adolescents would have a significant impact on the societies in which they live.

Keeping in view the above mentioned facts the study of adolescent has gained importance. The Documentation Centre had earlier compiled three different sets of bibliographies i.e. i). Adolescent in India ii). Adolescent Reproductive health, and iii). Adolescent Pregnancy under the Bibliographic Database Series. The bibliographic database, we hope, might have been found helpful in undertaking research work/programmes concerned with adolescents.

Keeping in line to the objectives another outcome has been A Resource Directory on Information, Education, Communication (IEC) Material. IEC Material developed by SRCs, PERCs, SCERTs and other organizations has been compiled and the target users, abstracts and keywords for each IEC Material listed has been drawn out.

I am thankful to Shri KC Choudhary, President, Indian Adult Education Association for his unconditional support and sustained encouragement to accomplish the task.

I am also thankful to Shri SC Dua, Documentation Officer for scanning several sources to collect the material and editing it. Shri Vivek Nagpal, research scholar, Department of Adult and Continuing Education and Extension, University of Delhi, also deserves appreciation for assisting in search of the material, compilation, and documentation. At last but not the least, I am also thankful to Shri Vikas Khanna, Ms. Neha Arora for preparing, layout design of the manuscript.
